

Optimisation in real life

Optimisation takes place almost everywhere in real life which can be simple or complex. In this project, the student will be aiming to look at some examples and provide the optimal solution/outcome. Students should have knowledge in programming.